Training on CBT (Computer Based Test) and Online Form submission

Date-25.07.2017

Trainer - Mr. Dinbandhu Barik

No. of Student Benefitted- 50

Mr. Dinbandhu Barik said that Computer-based training (CBT) is any course of instruction whose primary means of delivery is a computer. A CBT course (sometimes called courseware) may be delivered via a software product installed on a single computer, through a corporate or educational intranet, or over the Internet as Web-based training. CBT can be used to teach almost any conceivable subject, but it is especially popular for computer-related studies. People often take advantage of CBT to learn how to run a particular computer application, such as Microsoft Excel, or to learn a computer programming language, such as Visual Basic. Most of the students were able to fulfill the objectives of training.

Training on Verbal and Non Verbal Communication

Date-08.12.2018

Trainer - Mrs. Kamla Bai Diwan

Mr. Hitesh Bhoi

No. of Student Benefitted- 91

Mrs. Kamla Bai Diwan says that Verbal communication is perhaps the most obvious and understood mode of communication, and it is certainly a powerful tool in your communication toolbox. Put simply, verbal communication is the sharing of information between two individuals using words whereas Mr. Hitesh Bhoi said that We've already employed a little bit of nonverbal communication with the active listening skills we've previously discussed: nodding, facial expressions, leaning toward the speaker to show interest—all of those are forms of nonverbal communication. Body language can reinforce your spoken message or it can contradict it entirely. There's a myth that says that when you speak, only 35 percent of your communication is verbal and 65 percent of it is nonverbal. That's not entirely true because so much depends on the context and situation. It is, however, absolutely true that nonverbal communication can make or break your message.

Training on Qualities of an Effective
Speaker

Date-26.05.2022

Trainer - Mr. Ankit Bhoi,

No. of Student Benefitted- 81

Mr. Ankit Bhoi, said that Becoming an effective public speaker is not an easy task to accomplish. Being an effective public speaker encompasses a lot more than people might assume. An effective speaker needs to be able to get his or her information across while also keeping the audience entertained and engaged. This is not as easy as it may sound! How can you get an audience interested in what you have to say and keep them interested? How can you connect to the audience in a way that allows them to relate to you and understand your story? In order to be an effective speaker, these are the five qualities that are a must. 1. Confidence 2. Passion 3. Ability to be succinct 4. Ability to tell a story 5. Audience awareness.
